PURPOSE

TERMS

1. Confidential Information means any non-public information the Disclosing Party shares for the Purpose, in any form.
2. The Receiving Party will keep it confidential, use it only for the Purpose and share it only with staff or advisers who need it under similar duties.
3. These duties do not apply to information that becomes public through no fault of the Receiving Party, was already lawfully known to it, came lawfully from a third party, or was developed independently.
4. If the law or a court requires disclosure, the Receiving Party may disclose only what is required and will tell the Disclosing Party first where allowed.
5. On request, the Receiving Party will return or delete it, except copies the law requires.
6. All information remains the property of the Disclosing Party. This agreement grants no licence and no obligation to enter into any further deal.
7. The duties last for the Term stated above from the Effective Date. This is the entire agreement on this subject; changes must be in writing.
